

HOW CONTESTS WILL BE HEARD

Victor Rosewater Describes National Committee's Work.

WILL NOT STOP FOR LUNCH

One Long Continuous Session of the Committee Will Be Held Each Day Until All Contests Are Settled. Cites Precedent to Show Why Recently Elected Members Should Not Be Seated Until After Convention.

Omaha, June 5.—Victor Rosewater, acting chairman of the Republican national committee, in a signed statement, throws some light on how the sessions of the national committee will be held. He also cites a precedent to show why recently elected members of the committee should not be seated until after the national convention in Chicago. Mr. Rosewater says in part: "It is now plain that while both the Taft managers and the Roosevelt managers are loudly claiming to have enough instructed and committed delegates to control the convention and to elect their preferred candidate that neither side has sufficient confidence in its claim to sit still and let the other do the proselyting. The next part of the combat, therefore, is to be before the national committee."

"The committee will hold its sessions from day to day continuously from 10 o'clock in the morning until 4 or 5 o'clock in the afternoon, without interruption even for lunch, which will be served in an adjoining room to a few at a time as desired, so that the presentation of a contest may go right along and all be within reach of a vote at any moment."

"In 1908 South Dakota chose by direct primary its present member of the Republican national committee. The South Dakota member, Thomas Thorson, had, four years ago, the same kind of a certificate of election, duly embossed with the great seal of the state, that my impatient successor is carrying around with him under guard. But Mr. Thorson never thought to supplant the preceding member from South Dakota in advance of the convention from which the title and authority of the national committee is regularly derived."

"While considerable discussion has naturally been evoked in the newspapers generally by the peculiar proposals of the impatient gentleman I have yet to find any comment in any newspaper offering him any word of encouragement or consolation."

Speaking of arrangements for the public at the Chicago convention Mr. Rosewater says:

"The spectators will have the space, with raised tiers of seats, running around the edge of the building on the first floor and all of the gallery. There will be separate doors for the different classes of people attending and no opportunity for spectators to mix in with the delegates and alternates."

JUDGE ARCHBALD IS SILENT

Hearing Ends Without His Taking the Witness Stand.

Washington, June 5.—Investigation by the judiciary committee of the house into charges against Judge Robert W. Archbald of the commerce court was concluded in so far as taking of testimony is concerned. The committee will discuss in executive session the action to be taken.

Judge Archbald declined an opportunity to defend himself by going on the witness stand. The only defense offered was by his attorney, Colonel Worthington, who read into the record the judge's statement in court where he imposed the fines of $1,000 on the officials of the wire trust who were indicted.

KELLOGG FOR OPEN SESSIONS

Minnesotan Will Move to Admit Press at Delegate Contests

New York, June 5.—Frank B. Kellogg, Republican national committee man from Minnesota, issued a statement reading in part as follows: "I shall make a motion in the national committee that all sessions of the committee be thrown open to the press. The eyes of the country in this contest are on the national committee. For one I prefer that the public should be fully informed as to the merits of every contest. At this time in a crisis in the Republican party the members of the national committee stand in the nature of trustees and I hope and believe they will perform their duty with credit."

HAD SPLENDID WAR RECORD

Captain W. W. Smith Passes Away at Minneapolis.

Minneapolis, June 5.—Ninety-two years old, in excellent health until a very recent time, Captain W. W. Smith, who celebrated his sixtieth birthday on Jan. 1, died at the home of John C. Kelley, editor of the Sioux City Tribune. Mr. Hubbard was stricken with an attack of acute indigestion. Mr. Hubbard Monday defeated George C. Scott by a handsome majority for his fifth nomination, carrying eleven of the thirteen counties of the district. He was born in Rushville, Ind., Aug. 19, 1849.

CONGRESS WILL BACK GOMEZ

Senate Committee on Laws Recommends for Passage Bill Empowering President to Suspend Constitutional Guarantees in Province of Oriente and Both Houses Are Expected to Pass the Measure.

Havana, June 5.—The senate committee on laws reported a recommendation for the passage of a law empowering President Gomez to suspend the constitutional guarantees, but only in the province of Oriente. The suspension of the guarantees in the other provinces was considered unnecessary and inadvisable, especially on account of the approaching elections. The bill doubtless will pass both houses.

The text of the report of the committee was communicated immediately to the American minister, Arthur M. Beaupre.

The American consul at Santiago, Ross E. Holaday, expressed to General Montegudo, the Cuban commander-in-chief, that in his opinion it would be advisable to have an American warship stationed at Santiago, where there is acute alarm on account of the presence of strong bodies of rebels, some of which have advanced and exchanged shots with the police and volunteer guards.

Shoot Down Escaping Negroes.

Sixteen negroes, who were confined in jail at Guanajay on the charge of conspiracy, escaped. They overpowered the guard, seized some rifles and revolvers and fled in the direction of Mariel. A detachment of rurales and a large number of armed citizens pursued them and it is reported killed eight and captured one of the band.

Extraordinary police precautions continue at Havana in consequence of the persistence of the rumors of an intended negro uprising. Many American families are arriving at Havana from the outlying districts. There are reports that the negroes are holding nightly meetings in Pinar del Rio and it is rumored that a small band of insurgents has appeared in the province of Camaguey, which heretofore has not shown any signs of disturbance.

The government still is receiving applications for arms from loyal citizens. Thousands of licenses to keep rifles and revolvers have been issued in Havana and practically all men now go armed with revolvers. Business throughout the island is paralyzed and Havana merchants are refusing to risk sending goods into the interior, as a result of which many orders placed in the United States and Europe have been cancelled.

CUBAN REBELS SURRENDER

State Department Advises Tell of Improving Conditions.

Washington, June 5.—Evidence of a betterment of conditions in Cuba is contained in the state department dispatches. Revolutionists in Santa Clara province are surrendering daily to the authorities, according to reports of the American consul at Sagua la Grande.

From the Spanish-American Iron company at Daiquiri, where the American gunboat Paducah is standing by for emergencies, comes a dispatch telling of the general improvement of conditions there. Some excitement is said to exist at Santiago and Pinar, but the company's message declares that little damage has been done.

IS PAYING TOO MUCH RENT

Senator Williams Alleges That Graft Exists.

Washington, June 5.—Grafting in connection with the rental of buildings in Washington for government purposes was charged in the senate by Senator Williams of Mississippi in connection with the consideration of the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill. Other senators also criticized the extensive rent bills of the government.

The records show $586,274 is paid annually for the rental of buildings in Washington, used largely by the executive departments.

NOMINATED A FIFTH TIME

Congressman Hubbard of Iowa Dies at Sioux City.

IDAHO IS SOLID FOR CLARK

Dubois, National Manager, Defeated for Delegate.

Coeur d'Alene, Ida., June 5.—The Idaho state Democratic convention selected sixteen delegates to the Baltimore convention each with half a vote instructed for Champ Clark, but Fred T. Dubois, manager of the Clark national campaign, was not among them. The Dubois forces maneuvered for every point, but were defeated at every turn by the determined anti-Dubois majority.

The presentation of Dubois' name with twenty-three others for places on the delegation let loose a flood of endorsement and condemnation. In an instant charges and recriminations were flying between the rival factions and the convention broke into shouts and cheers.

ROOSEVELT LEADS IN SOUTH DAKOTA

Indications Are Colonel Gets State Delegation.

Sioux Falls, S. D., June 5.—Although returns have been received from only 130 out of about 1,500 precincts they point to a victory for Theodore Roosevelt in the South Dakota primaries. Newspapers computing the final result on the basis of these returns figure the plurality of the former president at from 5,000 to 10,000.

On the Democratic ticket Governor Wilson appeared to have a small lead, but the returns were too few to indicate a decisive result. Two Clark tickets were in the field and this apparently worked to the advantage of the New Jersey governor.

Wilson managers claim a victory, which is not conceded by the Clark men.

For United States senator Thomas Sterling, Republican, was leading Senator Gamble on the returns available and Edward S. Johnson, Democrat, had a good lead over P. F. Wickham.

DEFEATS POLITICAL FOES

Harmon Will Get the Solid Ohio Delegation.

Toledo, O., June 5.—Governor Harmon defeated his political foes in the preliminary session of the Ohio Democratic state convention by organizing the body with George S. Long of Troy, private secretary to the governor, as permanent chairman.

Senator Atlee Pomeroy, who was slated for permanent chairman, was defeated in the committee on permanent organization for the house by a vote of 10 to 7 after he had expressed himself as opposed to the unit rule.

The indications are that the unit rule will be adopted and Ohio's forty-eight votes at Baltimore will go solidly for Harmon for president.

CLAPP SETS DATE FOR PROBE

Senate Inquiry Into Campaign Fund Will Start July 1.

Washington, June 5.—Senator Clapp of Minnesota, chairman of the senate committee appointed to inquire into the source of campaign contributions in 1904 and 1908, said the investigation would be begun on July 1. The work will not be concluded until after the national election.

Senator Clapp said it was generally agreed at a committee meeting that congress would remain in session until Aug. 11. The committee therefore will have ample time in which to complete public hearings in the case before adjournment.

SUFFRAGISTS AND CONGRESS

Women Trying to Get Constitutional Amendment Passed.

HEARINGS IN COMMITTEES

Principal Object Is to Have Statements Sent Out Under Government Franks — Congressman Taylor's Speech Expected to Be a Big Help to the Cause.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, June 5.—[Special.]—For several years the women suffragists turned their attention to the states and did not attempt to obtain action through the national legislature. This year they are trying to get a constitutional amendment passed and have had hearings before different committees. The principal object of these hearings is to have the statements made by different speakers sent out under government frank. But better than anything else on the subject that can be franked through the mails is a speech by Congressman Taylor of Colorado, who has made one of the most effective and exhaustive speeches on equal suffrage that have ever been heard in the capitol.

Several Controverted Questions.

Congressman Taylor, coming from a state where women vote, took up and answered a number of controverted questions. He asserted it was not true that immoral women voted to any great extent, not one where a hundred good women voted. Women did not always vote the same way as their husbands. They were inclined to do so on party questions, but they also voted independently on many questions. Women are not office seekers, according to Taylor, and men need not fear that they will be prevented from holding the jobs. Equal suffrage does not cause divorce, he asserted. Not once in twenty years in Colorado has divorce been granted on account of political differences. He also denied that women had lost their "womanliness" on account of suffrage and also said that they did not neglect their homes and children.

Senators Will Not Listen.

The old problem of trying to make men listen to that which does not interest them has been tried out many times in the senate and failed. Senator Smoot spoke three days on the metal schedule of the tariff bill and at the close Senator McCumber took the senate to task because only three or four senators were present most of the time. Many other senators make like complaints, and they also complain because the newspapers pay no attention to the senate proceedings. The fact is that no one cares for long-winded tariff speeches at this time—nor any other time for that matter.

Called the House Down.

There had been a number of infractions of the rules in the house and the speaker took occasion when there was nothing of importance in hand to call down the members collectively, concluding with the observation, "Of course the chair cares nothing about it except that it is the way to preserve order and keep down quarrels and fusses."

Six Year Term.

It does not interest the people very much whether the presidential term is four or six years, but senators and representatives are very much interested in the subject, and there is no doubt a strong desire on the part of nearly all of them to lengthen the term and prevent any man from holding the office a second time. The majority of men in congress tire of the man who is president four years, and there is always a majority who do not want to see the return of any man who has been president. Even men who will be satisfied with Roosevelt really believe that there should be a one term limit.

Borah Too Candid.

Senator Borah raised quite a controversy when he said that no one expected any of the tariff bills under discussion to become laws. Members of the senate squirmed and protested, many asserting that they were acting in good faith and wanted the bills passed to afford the president an opportunity to sign or veto them. "Perhaps I made a mistake the other day," said Borah when the senate continued to squabble over the matter. "I was too candid and expressed too freely what was in the minds of members of the senate. If I should have the good fortune to remain here I would likely become more diplomatic in expressing that which we all really understand to be the fact."

It was John Sharp Williams who remarked that Borah did not want to criticize the Republican president, and consequently "he merely threw the remarks out innocently upon the circumambient atmosphere."

Boys Will Be Boys.

Senator Bailey dislikes Colonel Bryan more than any other man in his party. Congressman McCall, the suave and dignified, dislikes Colonel Roosevelt more than any man in his party. The senator and the congressman met in a capitol corridor.

"Hello, Roosevelt," said Bailey. "Hello, Bryan," retorted McCall. Several years ago John Sharp Williams said in the house, "We are merely boys grown up."

WHILE PLAYING POLO GAME

Robert Bacon Breaks Collarbone a Second Time.

Westbury, N. Y., June 5.—For the second time Robert Bacon, former ambassador to France, broke a collarbone as a result of too short a turn in a polo game he was playing on the private field of J. S. Phillips at this place.

The first accident occurred eighteen months ago when he was schooling his horse for an amateur race meet.

LABORING CLASSES CONTINUE RIOTING

Belgium Appears on the Verge of a Revolution.

Brussels, June 5.—Belgium is in a state of eruption on account of the recent elections and rioting throughout the country has taken on a revolutionary character. Many persons have been killed or wounded in various cities and a large number of reserves have been called to the colors. Agitation in the industrial centers is increasing rapidly. Every hour brings news of fresh protests by the laboring classes against the governmental victories.

The conservative elements are considerably alarmed over the tendencies of the civic guard, which corresponds to the American militia, to make common cause with the rioters. This, however, is only in isolated instances, Brussels being a case in point, where the guard held a sympathetic celebration before the monument of Francisco Ferrer, the originator of the modern school in Spain.

The national disorders generally are attributed to the acute disappointment of the laboring classes over the pronounced victory of the Clericals in the recent elections. The Socialists allied themselves with the Liberals on the public school question in opposition to the government policy, hoping thereby to win a majority in the chamber. Their failure caused a wave of anger to sweep over the country. The charge is made that the plural system of voting, giving some men two or three votes, gave the Clericals their victory.

KENYON AN EASY WINNER

Iowa Senator Renominated by 50,000 to 75,000.

Des Moines, June 5.—Senator W. S. Kenyon was nominated to succeed himself by a majority of between 50,000 and 75,000 votes over Lafayette Young of Des Moines in Monday's statewide primary, according to incomplete returns. Complete returns, it is believed, will show that Senator Kenyon carried ninety of the ninety-nine counties in Iowa.

D. W. Hamilton of Sigourney was unopposed for the nomination for Democratic senator.

P. G. Holden of Ames conceded that George W. Clarke of Adel will be the Republican nominee for governor. E. G. Dunn of Mason City will receive the Democratic nomination for governor over J. T. Hamilton of Cedar Rapids by a majority of 5,000, incomplete returns indicate.

CONVENTION PRIMARIES END

Both Taft and Roosevelt Are Claiming Victory

Washington, June 5.—With the primary held in South Dakota for the election of ten delegates to the Chicago convention the Republican pre-convention contest for delegates ended. Both President Taft and Colonel Roosevelt claim they have a sufficient number to insure their nomination on the first ballot. President Taft claims to have a total of 592 instructed and pledged delegates. Colonel Roosevelt's managers claim 629. These figures do not include the result in South Dakota. They are also subject to revision as a result of the contest cases to be decided by the Republican national committee which will begin its session on Thursday in Chicago.

GIRLS KISS CAPTAIN ROSTRON

Titanic Hero Blushes but Stands His Ground.

New York, June 5.—Just before Captain A. H. Roston of the steamer Carpathia, the savior of the Titanic survivors, sailed for Mediterranean ports he was stormed by a host of pretty girls who blushed less rosy than the captain as they begged for the customary blessing of a hero.

Captain Roston stood gallantly on the bridge and gave away kisses as fast as the girls could file past him. Two of them came bearing a gift in the shape of a coal black kitten as an omen of extra good luck for the Carpathia and her commander.

SEEKS DELAY FOR LORIMER

Dillingham Wants Vote Postponed Until After Conventions.

Washington, June 5.—The vote of the senate on the resolution declaring the election of Senator Lorimer of Illinois invalid will not be taken until after the national conventions if negotiations now in progress between his supporters and opponents in the senate prove successful.

The suggestion for the postponement was made to Senators Lea and Kern by Senator Dillingham, chairman of the Lorimer committee. Mr. Dillingham did not indicate a purpose of pressing the suggestion but he pointed out the necessity for a full attendance, which would be difficult to obtain before or during the political meetings.

SENATOR NIXON IS DYING

End May Come Soon to the Nevada Statesman.

Washington, June 5.—Senator George S. Nixon of Nevada is in a critical condition at a hospital and his death is considered a matter of hours. The doctors said that while the senator's heart action and vitality were strong he could not long survive.

The serious illness of the senator was a surprise to his colleagues in the senate and official Washington. He had an operation for nasal catarrh performed last Thursday and spinal meningitis developed.

Roosevelt Severely Criticises Ohio Convention's Act.

CALLS IT PURE BRIGANDAGE

Capture of State's Six Delegates at Large by the President Draws Violent Fire From Sage of Sagamore Hill—Roosevelt Calls It Fresh Proof Taft and Followers Care Nothing for Will of the People.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., June 5.—"Pure political brigandage!" Colonel Roosevelt said of the capture of Ohio's six delegates at large to the Republican national convention by supporters of President Taft. He said it was a fresh and conclusive proof that Mr. Taft and his advisers care nothing for the will of the people.

The former president also replied to a statement of William Barnes, Jr., whom he attacked as a disciple of bossism, and commended to the attention of his opponents, including Mr. Taft, the report of the legislative committee which last spring investigated conditions in Albany. In his statement Colonel Roosevelt said:

"The plain people of the Republican party of Ohio have just held a statewide primary in which they repudiated Mr. Taft by over 30,000 majority. "The politicians by adroit manipulation have succeeded in giving Mr. Taft the six delegates at large, in frank and cynical defiance of the emphatic action of the people themselves. This, of course, is pure political brigandage. In this fight I have from beginning to end sought to give the people the right to say whom they wanted to have as president and have not merely by word but by action made it evident that I did not wish the nomination unless the majority of the rank and file of the Republican party wished me to have it.

Ignore Will of People.

"This action in Ohio is merely a fresh and conclusive proof that Mr. Taft and his advisers care nothing for the will of the people and are eager to get the nomination without any reference to the methods by which it is secured, without any reference to whether or not delegates represent the people whom they are supposed to represent. It is a crowning illustration of Mr. Taft's theory of government of the people by a representative part of the people."

Saying that Mr. Barnes has been chosen to head the Taft forces the colonel declared Mr. Barnes stands for "the right of the bosses to rule the people and the supremacy of privilege over the rights of humanity." He added that the way the principles advocated by Mr. Barnes work in practice is set forth in the report of the special committee of the New York state senate appointed to investigate the city and county of Albany. This report the colonel commends "to those men (including Mr. Taft himself) who may wish to see just what the judgment of a legislative committee of Mr. Barnes' own state is as to the workings of Mr. Barnes' theory of government in his own city."

ROOSEVELT MEN ON HAND

First Note of Enthusiasm in Chicago Hotels.

Chicago, June 5.—The first note of enthusiasm was thrown into the hotel corridors when part of the Roosevelt national headquarters force arrived from Washington.

Rumors were current that Colonel Roosevelt would be on hand before the convention preliminaries were out of the way. It was asserted by Republican leaders who arrived from the East that the colonel expected to be on hand not only to take part in convention proceedings, but to direct the activities of the Roosevelt "flying wedge," which is being organized and drilled for propaganda work among the delegates.

Commencement exercises of St.

at the Grand theater last evening.
Every seat in the house was taken.
The pupils and graduates were heard in songs and recitations and in plays and the care, thought and study devoted to the various numbers and their fine rendition spoke well for the work of Rev. Father O'Mahoney and the sisters who are instructors in the school. There were 18 graduates who received the diplomas certifying they had graduated from the school. The stage and the theatre room were tastily and appropriately decorated. The address of the evening was delivered by Rev. P. J.
O'Mahoney who in an eloquent manner spoke on "Religion and Education."

The south side had a spectacular fire Tuesday afternoon. Four barns and sheds aflame near and at 708 South Broadway. The department made a quick run and soon had two big streams playing on the blaze. Elmo Wright, of the Echo Dairy Co., lost about $150 on the small barn and sheds he had. Only a few days ago
Mr. Wright took his $200 insurance off these buildings and applied it all on his remodeled house. Next door the barn of Ole H. Nelson, the carpenter, was badly damaged to the extent of about $150, covered by insurance. The horse was saved, but the neighbors in their excitement forgot the harness, the tool chest and a lot of storm windows and summer-screens which were more or less damaged by fire and water. On the Wright side the children worked heroically dodging the firemen's streams of water and at the imminent peril of a ducking saved their three rabbits which had been soaked until they had fairly stiffened out. Two roosters, however, fell a victim to the flames. The fire is supposed to have started from hot ashes which were thrown out in the yards or alley.

Distinguished Assistance.

Dr. Jenkins, master of Balliol college, Oxford, one day slipped and fell in the street and lay where he had stumbled.
Two undergraduates ran hotfoot to assist him, but those who watched saw them draw back, while the master continued genially kicking his treacherous legs in the air. Another man came along, and then the great one got up.
This was the explanation: When the undergraduates were about to set him on his legs he was a first willing; but to a master of arts appeared in sight.
Dignity must be preserved. "Stay, young men!" he said. "I will be assisted to my feet by a master of arts!"
And he was.

Eskimo Women's Work.

In a zone where the diet is largely meat and the meat is eaten raw cooking forms no great part of woman's work. But, though she gets out of the cooking by this simple expedient, the Eskimo woman has work to do. When her husband comes back from the hunt it is her business to scrape and prepare the skins of the animals he has killed and out of these skins make the family supply of boots. The flesshe cuts up for drying. True to the Indian conception of the eternal fitness of things, the boys play and gambol about until they are old enough to go to the hunt with their fathers, but the girls, while still very young, go to work, helping their mothers.

Woman's Strength.

An observant correspondent has noted the small clasp and the big grasp of the woman. The boatman gives her smaller sculls for her smaller hands, and the gymnast is fitted with the smaller apparatus for the feminine clasp. But notice the weak woman in the train or tram who has carried and balanced a baby all day for a holiday.
As a man could you do it? It's a joke for the man at midnight. But the woman does it without mentioning it.
She can carry that baby all day on an arm and think she is holiday making.
There is not a man who could do it for twenty minutes without mentioning it.

An Old Time London Fog.

"There happen'd this week," says
John Evelyn in an entry in his diary dated Nov. 25, 1699, "so thick a mist and fog that people lost their way in the streets, it being so intense that no light of candles or torches yield-any (or but very little) direction. I was in it and in danger. Robberies were committed between the very lights which were fixed between London and Kensington on both sides and while coaches and travelers were passing. It began about 4 o'clock in the afternoon and was quite gone by 8, without any wind to disperse it. At the Thames they beat drums to direct the watermen to make the shore."

Catcher Bud Roderick Figures Out the Batting Averages of the Brainerd Team

BUSH PITCHES WINNING BALL

Cuyuna Will Play Brainerd Here Friday Evening, 5:45 Sharp

Catcher Bud Roderick, of the Brainerd baseball team, has kept faithful tally of the hits made and the times at bat of the different players of the Brainerd baseball team and being of a mathematical bent of mind, Bud has devoted some time to the work and carefully figured out the percentages, which are as follows:

	ab	r	h	Pct.
Considine	2	0	1	500
Templeton	25	7	10	400
Kunitz	5	2	2	400

Under the flaring heading "Bush is Too Much for Electrics and Wins One," the Daily Missoulian chronicles a victory which the Brainerd boys negotiated over the Great Falls team on June 2. "Although pitted against the veteran Bittorf, Bush pitched to victory in the first game of the double header at Great Falls Sunday. Bush held Reed's artillery to four hits, three of them being obtained in the first inning, when the youngster was a little wild. This in itself is a very creditable performance against the Electrics, who are usually very strong when it comes to the stick work. Bittorf got into troublesome waters in the fourth, when the entire batting order participated in a rally which gave the Highlanders five tallies in this inning and put the game on ice, for Great Falls was never very dangerous after that. Three singles, two errors, and a sacrifice gave the Electrics scores in the first, although none of the runs were earned." The score of the game was 9 to 5. In the second game pitched by Roseburroughs and Quick, Missoula lost out to Great Falls by a score of 3 to 7.

The Daily Missoulian has gained a number of subscriptions in Brainerd of those fans who are unable to wait until the Dispatch copies the dope from the Missoulian. The Missoulian's baseball page is certainly an attractive one to Brainerd eyes and is read with increasing interest. The sporting editor of that Montana paper writes some good stuff and everybody reads it, even down to the hand forged verses of the blacksmith versifier, Tubalkane.

The mascot of the Brainerd team in the Brainerd-Royalton game last Sunday was "Happy" Alderman's bull dog "Rags". Several times Rags sat behind the Royalton catcher and watched the balls and strikes. He covered the territory around first and third too and quite often barked at the fans when they cheered a Royalton play, as he seemed to deprecate wasting any enthusiasm in that direction.

Brainerd plays Royalton next Sunday and the little town with the baking powder name is said to be intent on winning from the pennant leaders. A number of the faithful fans will accompany the team, for missing one game may rust their voices and vocabulary.

Little Falls like Brainerd, acknowledges the value of a bunch of good rooters and said they helped them win the game at Royalton when Governor Eberhart was present.

The Brainerd team is practicing nearly every evening and rounding into championship form. Managers inspect all teeth and gearing in this baseball machine and do their best to have it in good running shape for Sunday's game.

Cuyuna will play Brainerd at the Koering grounds Friday evening 5:45 sharp. Most of the business houses of the city have signified their intention of closing at 5:30 so as to give everybody a chance to see the game. Cuyuna has a classy team and believe they have a nine which will make Brainerd go some to win. They claim Crosby didn't cover a $100 challenge to play on an open date.

BIG CARNIVAL COMING IN JULY

Great Patterson Carnival Company to Show in Brainerd, July 8 to 13 Inclusive

FOR BENEFIT OF CITY PARKS

The Carnival May Locate on Main Street Between Fourth and Sixth Streets

City parks will share in the net proceeds derived from the six days' carnival to be held in Brainerd commencing July 8. The Great Patterson Carnival company will hold forth in all its splendor and its attractions are said to exceed in magnitude and general interest those of any other carnival show on the road, even exceeding those of the Parker company which was here last.

The location of the carnival tents has not been decided on. Some favor holding the show on Main street between 4th and 6th streets. Others prefer the old location on Front street. Main street offers the advantage insofar that a carnival on that street will not materially block traffic.

Judge J. T. Sanborn has received no advance literature regarding the best, the biggest and the only carnival on earth, but he asserts that it's going to be a great show and everybody will be satisfied.

Marriage Licenses

June 1, 1912—William J. Dodge to Anna Aaberg.

June 4—Bernard T. Lind to Helen A. Taylor.

Lind-Taylor

At nine o'clock this morning Bernard T. Lind and Miss Helen A. Taylor were married at St. Francis Catholic church, Rev. Father John Crean officiating. The bride was gown in cream colored messaline silk and carried a shower bouquet of brides roses, lilies of the valley and ferns. She was attended by her sister, Miss Maizie Taylor, dressed in pink silk. The groom's best man was Harry Taylor, a brother of the bride.

Mr. Lind is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Lind, is a machinist at the shops and well liked by his employers and his many friends. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Taylor and enjoys a large circle of acquaintances. The happy couple left on the afternoon train for a trip to Boston and other eastern cities and before their return will also visit the former home of the bride in Canada. A sumptuous wedding breakfast was served at the home of the parents of the bride.

Their many friends wish them much happiness and prosperity in which the Dispatch heartily joins.

Dodge-Aaberg

William J. Dodge and Miss Anna Aaberg were married on June 1, the ceremony being performed by Judge J. T. Warner and being witnessed by Henry Wassermann and Alex Markee. The best wishes of their many friends accompany the happy couple on their path through wedded life.

NIGHT PARADE AT STATE LABOR MEET

Organized Labor Will Parade on First Evening of the Convention in This City

400 DELEGATES ARE EXPECTED

Open Air Lecture Scheduled Wednesday Evening—Range Towns offer Attractive Side Trips

The State Federation of Labor will hold its annual convention in Brainerd on June 17, 18 and 19 and the local committee on arrangements is meeting every Friday evening at The-viot's hall arranging the necessary details to provide for the amusement and care of the 400 delegates and others who will attend this big convention.

The arrangement committee has asked Dr. Werner Hemstead, Judge J. T. Sanborn and H. W. Linneemann to act as a committee to collect funds in Brainerd to properly care for the convention and they are meeting with good success.

On Monday evening, June 17, there will be a night parade of organized labor and some novel features will be introduced in the way of decorations and illuminations. The Brainerd City band and the Unity band of Northeast Brainerd have been secured for the parade and all labor organizations are making arrangements to turn out in a body.

On Tuesday evening there will be a lunch ride up the Mississippi river.

On Wednesday evening an open air lecture will be given on child labor. Illustrated by numerous pictures and "The Cry of the Children" will also be shown in moving pictures, a twenty foot screen being erected on the lawn either in depot park or the Y. M. C. A. grounds. These lectures will be given under the auspices of the Woman's Union Label league.

All the different union labels will be shown in the course of the lecture. Many of the delegates and their friends have never seen an iron mine in operation or have seen the splendid lake region to the east and south of Brainerd and to these the towns of Crosby, Cuyuna, Ironton, Deerwood, Manganese, Oreland and Barrows will offer good side trips.

The Brainerd baseball team is making arrangements for one or two games to be played during convention week. In addition June 17 witnesses the opening of "University Week" in the city and prominent university lecturers will be heard at the opera house and many will plan to attend these entertainments.

The Horse's Hoof.

In its present elaborate form the hoof of a horse is the most perfect instrument of support which has been devised in the animal kingdom to uphold a large and swiftly moving animal in its passage over the ground. The original toe nail and the neighboring soft parts connected with it have been modified into a structure which in an extraordinary manner combines solidity with elasticity, so that it may strike violent blows upon the hard surface of the earth without harm. The result is that the horse can carry a greater weight at a swifter speed than any other animal approaching it in size. —Exchange.

Laws on Dress and Diet.

Britain's parliament used at one time to say not only what a laborer should earn, but also what he should eat and drink. The statute of apparel, passed in 1363, regulated the diet of servants, artificers and tradesmen. They and their wives were further compelled to wear clothes of a certain low price with no gold, silver or embroidery. If they did not possess goods or chattels to the value of 40 shillings they were to wear only blanket or russet and girdles of linen. Other laws of a similar character were also passed. Most of them were repealed under James I., but the last was not expunged from the statute book till 1856.

Wool Drying.

Wool drying is one of the principal and serious operations in the woolen industry. The more gently and uniformly the wool is dried the better is the result attained, for should the wool be slightly damp in some of its parts the dye does not take well, and the result is an unevenly dyed yarn, which shows in the texture of the woven goods. Overdrying is also bad.

REAL HAPPINESS.

Straightforward, honest work, a determined endeavor to do one's best, an earnest desire to scatter flowers instead of thorns, to make other people a little better off, a little happier because of our existence—these are the only recipes for real happiness.

CASES ON IN THE DISTRICT COURT

Plaintiffs Fare Well in Three Civil Cases, Getting Verdicts Against Several Defendants

ALLEGED FORGERY CASE TRIED

Gus Keirikel Accused of Forging Check on Brainerd State Bank and Passing it on Merchant

In several civil cases in which juries have brought in verdicts in the district court, the plaintiffs, as a rule, have fared well and have secured verdicts against several defendants.

The case of Charles E. Peabody vs Jacob Tabert was disposed of on a motion of the defendant, who asked for a dismissal on the grounds that the allegations of the complaint were not sustained and the court so decided and ordered a dismissal.

In the case of Andrew Carlson vs R. R. Wise, the jury brought in a verdict in favor of Carlson, assessing his damages at $500.

In the case of the Parkes Safety Window Balance & Lock Co. vs Chas. L. Lasher, the jury awarded the Parkes company a verdict and assessed its damages at $338. A stay of 30 days was ordered.

In the case of Hayes vs Markee, the jury brought in a verdict in favor of the plaintiff, assessing her damages at $33. A stay of 30 days was also ordered in this case.

Winfred Rardin, when arraigned, pleaded not guilty to the charge of assault in the second degree. No indictment was returned in the case of L. D. Bailey and the defendant was ordered discharged from bonds. A bench warrant was ordered against Harry Whitman.

The case of the Duluth Maltng Co. vs John Wise and Mary Wise was ordered continued.

This morning the case of the state vs Gus Keirikel, accused of forgery in the second degree, was called. Keirikel was defended by Attorney W. W. Bane. The charge is made that Keirikel forged a check on the Brainerd State bank and passed it on John E. E. Sympathy goes out to Keirikel's wife and her brood of little ones, who more than the husband would suffer if he was found guilty. The entire family is in destitute circumstances and the visiting nurse, Miss Edith Bohike, has aided them on several occasions.

BUILT UPON QUICKSAND.

It Makes a Firm Foundation For Many New York Skyscrapers.

Quicksand, to the popular mind a lurking monster that swallows up the unwary, while often treacherous, has been safely built upon, and several of the second class skyscrapers in New York rest directly upon it. It is necessary at the outset to correct the popular idea about quicksand. The engineer's definition of quicksand is any loose, friable material saturated with water. There are different kinds of quicksand, just as there are different kinds of wood, varying from nearly as treacherous as the popular idea of it to a material that may be safely built upon.

The ground in the lower end of Manhattan Island is a quicksand extending from the surface to a maximum depth of eighty feet below Broadway. It will bear three tons per square foot, and the foundations of many tall buildings rest upon it. Filled in ground is one of the poorest materials on which to build, as for years after it has been deposited it will continue to settle, and obviously any structure it carries must settle with it.

Ordinary ground will bear safely from two to four tons per square foot. Dry clay from four to six tons per square foot, good gravel from six to ten tons and bedrock from 50 to 200 tons per square foot. Sand if confined will stand very large pressures, and similarly water, the most unsuitable of all, if it could be restrained, would be capable of resisting an enormous pressure. Certainly no force man has produced is sufficient to injure its structure. —Strand Magazine.

THE TOP OF THE WORLD.

How an Explorer Would Know When He Was at the Pole.

The question arises in the mind of every one who is not an expert in using measuring instruments, "How do the explorers know when they are standing on the rotating point of the world?"

Perhaps there is a queer sensation when one is standing on the exact spot, but then no one has located either pole with such exactness. One can, however, discover one's nearness to this interesting point by several methods.

First one can measure the height of the sun above the horizon. When one is standing on the pole the sun circles round the observer during the whole twenty-four hours. It does not perceptibly rise or fall during the day. It just goes right round at a certain height, which varies according to the season.

You measure the sun's height above the horizon Dec. 14 at noon, at mid night and so forth. The angle you obtain is the angle which you should obtain for your supposed position. To make sure, you remain there two or three days so that errors of measurement can be corrected.

Also you can measure your shadow or the shadow of a pole during the whole twenty-four hours. If the length of this shadow varies by even an inch or so you are not at the pole. It must describe a perfect circle about the center.

The most exact measurements are obtained by theodolites. Sextants are not so accurate.—London Sphere.

THE TRUE TEST

Tried in Brainerd, It Has Stood the Test

The hardest test is the test of time, and Doan's Kidney Pills have stood it well in Brainerd. Kidney sufferers can hardly ask for stronger proof than the following:

Mrs. Charles Erickson, 1103 E. Oak St., Brainerd, Minn., says: "I suffered from disordered kidneys for two or three years. There was a dull, heavy pain through the small of my back that kept me in constant state of discomfort. I was also subject to headaches and dizzy spells. Having been advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a box and used them regularly. I now feel much better in every way. I am certain that all kidney sufferers will find relief through the use of Doan's Kidney Pills." (Statement given August 31, 1908.)

RE-ENDORSEMENT

On October 12, 1910, when Mrs. Erickson was interviewed she said: "I cheerfully confirm my former testimonial regarding Doan's Kidney Pills. This remedy can always be relied upon."

So light running that your "youngest" can now mow the lawn without help.

KEEN KUTTER Mowers are fast cutting and easy running because of the double gear and the fine ball bearings. A KEEN KUTTER will last longer than any mower on the market and is easily kept keen and sharp. To sharpen, merely reverse the blades and they sharpen themselves. A cheap mower will cost more in the end on account of repairs, will not do the work properly and will require twice as much labor.

Prices, $6.75 to $15.00.

Other Mowers from $3.00 up.

When Letters Went by Hand.
There was a time when fashionably folk held it discourteous to communicate with a friend through the post when it was possible to do so by messenger. In Miss Louisa Courtenay's "Notes of an Octogenarian," published some years ago, she remarks that "when the twopenny London post was established it was not etiquette to make use of it for private letters. I remember my father's annoyance when a stupid London footman had posted a letter to Sir Robert Peel instead of sending it by the groom. 'It seems so impertinent,' he said, 'to send a letter to a man like Sir Robert Peel by post.' Invitations and their answers were all ways sent by hand."

Wonders of the Eye.

Viewed as an optical instrument the human eye may well be called perfect, for it is an apparatus contained in a globe less than an inch in diameter, in which is produced an image practically perfect in form and color and which can be accurately adjusted almost instantly for every distance from five inches to infinity, which is movable in every direction, has an area small enough for the detection of the most minute details and at the same time large enough for the appreciation of large objects, and which enables us to see all shades of color and to estimate distance, solidity and, to some extent, the consistency of objects.

Garrick and the Bishop.

In the "Realities of Irish Life," by W. S. French, is this anecdote: "I have heard a story that upon one occasion the bishop of London asked the celebrated actor, Garrick, if he could explain how it was that he and his clergy failed to arrest the attention of their audiences, although they preached every Sunday of the realities of the world to come, while he (Garrick) filled crowded houses with the most rapid attention, although they knew perfectly well that all he was saying was fiction. 'The reason is very plain, my lord,' replied Garrick. 'You deal with facts as if they were fiction. I deal with fiction as if it were facts.'"

Assuming That.

METHOD IN BUSINESS.

One Busy Executive's Plan For Keeping His Papers in Order.

Often executives use portfolios on their desks for keeping important matters before them, but if they have many matters the portfolio becomes bulky, papers are lost and the desk is littered. With a flat top desk a portfolio is an impossibility. Recently a business man who was a firm believer in the portfolio idea worked out a variation of it which handled his matters very satisfactorily. He bought a four drawer flat top cabinet, which sat beside his desk. He could pull all of the drawers out part way and drop papers in them as he worked, thus keeping them off his desk and putting them where they would be taken care of.

The top drawer was labeled "Today," the next one "Tomorrow," the third one "Next Week" and the last one "Next Month." When he reached a paper he wanted to take up next day he dropped it in the second drawer and followed the same idea with the other drawers with reference to time. Each morning his stenographer emptied the "Tomorrow" drawer into the "Today" drawer, and when the man started the day he took the contents of the "Today" drawer and placed them on his desk. Once a week, Monday morning, the stenographer emptied the "Next Week" drawer into the "Today" drawer and on the last day of the month emptied the "Next Month" drawer. The scheme worked admirably well in his case and with a few variations to meet particular conditions will solve many vexing problems—Business.

BISMARCK'S REVOLT.

The Quarrel and Retort That Parted Him From the Kaiser.

The emperor's quarrel with Bismarck is a matter of history, and it started owing to the chancellor having a private interview with a certain political personage unknown to his majesty. The emperor, hearing of this, wrote to Bismarck telling him that he expected to be informed of all such interviews before they took place. The prince's reply to the letter was a verbal one and was spoken to the emperor's private secretary. "Tell his majesty," it ran, "that I cannot allow any one to decide who is to cross my own threshold." When the message was delivered to the emperor he drove around to the chancellor's place and asked him what the discussion in question was about. In excited tones the prince declared that he could not subject his intercourse with political personages to any restraint, nor would he allow any one to control the passage to his private apartments. "Not even when I as your sovereign command you to do so?" shouted the emperor, enraged. "The commands of my sovereign," coldly replied the chancellor, "end at the drawing room of my wife." At the same time he offered to retire from office. This was on Saturday, and on the following Monday the emperor politely asked Bismarck to send in his resignation. On March 18, 1890, the Tuesday after the quarrel, the abdication was written, and Germany lost her pilot.—National Magazine.

Killed Him With Kisses.

M. de Langy was a courtier of the time of Louis XV, whose supreme conceit so irritated certain ladies of the court that they resolved to inflict upon him a novel punishment. Feigning one day to be overcome by the beauty of his face and person, they fell upon him en masse, hugging and kissing the wretched dandy until he cried for mercy. Deaf to his entreaties, the ladies continued their merciless caresses until the object of their mock love, who indeed was but a sorry weakling, in endeavoring to break away from their clutches broke a blood vessel and died a few days later.

The Sailor's Toothbrush.

A bluff and coarse old time sea captain caught a sailor one morning cleaning his teeth with a toothbrush. The old man seized the brush, snapped it in two and tossed the pieces overboard. Then, his eyes flashing fire, he said:

"What are ye tryin' to do—corrupt the ship with this here effeminate Cleanin' yer teeth with a toothbrush? Why, ye swab, don't ye know that when an honest sailor wants to scrape the tobacco off his grinders he does it, like a man, with a marlinspike or a link of chain cable dipped in cinders outen the cook's galley?"—New York Tribune.

A Satirical Reward.

There was perhaps more satire than gratitude in the reward bestowed by a French lady on a surgeon for bleeding her—an operation in which the lancet was so clumsily used that an artery was severed and the poor woman bled to death. When she recognized that she was dying she made a will in which she left the operator a life annuity of 500 francs on condition "that he never again bleed anybody as long as he lives."

The Hunters.

"I'm going off on a hunting trip with Rinks, Dawson and Bildad," said Flick enlooper. "Fine!" said Wigley. "Big game or small?" "Oh, we never go beyond the ten cent limit," said Hickenlooper.—Harper's Weekly.

Some Improvement.

SPOILED A SPANISH PLOT.

Reward of Dutch Boys For Saving Amsterdam's Stock Exchange.

Of the many quaint and curious customs, traditions and privileges prevailing in Holland none is more extraordinary than a certain privilege that has been enjoyed by the boys of Amsterdam for nearly 300 years.

At a fixed time each summer these boys gather by the hundreds in the great square called the Dam, situated in the center of the city. Each boy has a drum slung over his shoulder.

Facing this square is the Stock Exchange, and on the occasion in question, just as soon as the day's business is over, as many of the boys as can crowd into the building. They proceed to the floor of the exchange, where, pursuant to this old custom, they are permitted to march about, singing and beating upon their drums.

The origin of this custom, it is said, is as follows:

One afternoon in the year 1622 a crowd of boys playing in the Dam lost a ball in the canal that in those days skirted one side of the square. One of the lads, while climbing in among the piles on which the building stood, found instead of his ball a boat moored in a dark corner and loaded with boxes of gunpowder. This showed clearly enough what was afterward ascertained with certainty, the intention of the Spanish conspirators to blow up the Stock Exchange while it was crowded, as it was every day, with the leading citizens of the city.

The boy who stumbled upon the gunpowder at once hurried to the town authorities with his news. The boatload of explosives was quietly sunk in the canal and the Spanish plot thus frustrated.

When the burgesses asked the boy what reward he desired for the service he had rendered the town he replied that so long as there was a stock exchange in Amsterdam the boys of the town would like to be permitted to make the floor of the exchange their playground during a certain part of the year. The request was granted, and so the custom survives.—New York Sun.

Nightcaps.

For external application the nightcap is rarely seen. It is first mentioned during the time of the Tudors. In the inventory of Henry VIII's wardrobe we come across the following item: "A nightcap of black velvet embroidered, as Shakespeare suggests, 'uneasy rests the head that wears a crown.' Poor old Bishop Latimer was not content with one nightcap. Fox in his 'Book of Martyrs' describes him as follows: 'He held his hat in his hand, having a handkerchief on his head and upon it a nightcap or two and a great cap, such as townsmen use, with broad flaps to button under his chin.' They evidently believed in keeping their heads warm in those days.

COMRADESHIP.

Mix with your fellow men and be a help to them. Be a good comrade. Learn the secret of good comradeship. Many men do not know it at all. Be just, strong, frank, fearless, independent, but add your strength to the strength of your fellows. Do not stand aloof or sulk or be unsocial. Do not jeer at other men and find fault with them. Learn to do "team work"; learn to co-operate. Give and take in friendly conversation. Be generous.—Charles F. Dole.

Auctioneers in England.

The auctioneers of the United Kingdom cannot claim to belong to a very ancient profession so far as that country is concerned. Though auctions were familiar institutions in ancient Rome, the first in the British islands is said to have been held about 1700, when Elisha Yale, governor of Fort George (Madras), put up for sale his trophies of the east, and, although "auction" was defined in 1678 as "making a public sale and selling of goods by outcry" it does not appear to have been recognized then as a British institution. The word "auctioneer" does not occur before the eighteenth century.—London Mail.

A Mob.

A mob is usually a creature of very mysterious existence, particularly in a large city. Where it comes from or whither it goes few men can tell. Assembling and dispersing with equal suddenness, it is as difficult to follow to its various sources as the sea itself, nor does the parallel stop here, for the ocean is not more fickle and uncertain, more terrible when aroused, more unreasonable or more cruel.—Dickens.

Thin as the Mist.

Scene, a town in the north on a very misty day. Sandy McKay (coming out of a public house and meeting his minister face to face)—Losh, sir, it's an awful deceivin' thing, this mist. D'ye ken (impressively), I wandered in there the noo, thinkin' it was the grocer's?—London Telegraph

Ambiguous.

"Papa, Arthur—Mr. Jinx is in the parlor and asked me to ask you if you would mind stepping down there for a few minutes; he has something important to ask you." "Sure! Tell him I'll have my boots on in just a minute."—Houston Post.

Made to Order.

"I just know I'm going to have a fearful headache." "Feel it coming on?" "No, but my husband has tickets for a concert that I don't want to go to."

A Diagnosis.

"My dear sir, is this son of yours you speak of adolescent?" "Oh, no, sir. He's just a little queer in his head."—Baltimore American

MELLIN'S FOOD

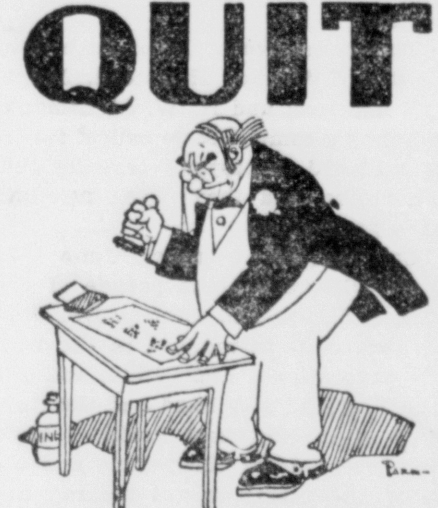

saved these twins' lives

"I am writing to let you know how your Mellin's Food helped my twin baby boys. They were so poor when I commenced feeding them with Mellin's Food that we did not expect they would live from one day to another. Now they are as fine babies as anyone would wish to have; as fat and happy as can be. One weighs sixteen pounds and the other eighteen. I am so thankful that we tried Mellin's Food, as I know that they would not have been living today if we had not. Now if this testimony will help some other poor mother having trouble with her baby, by all means use it."
